Symmetry: Images that are symmetrical are often perceived collectively, in spite of distance.

This is why many grammatical symbols are made to be symmetrical, because then we perceive it as a group.

“Hello!” “Hi!”

FRANK LLOYD WRIGHT-

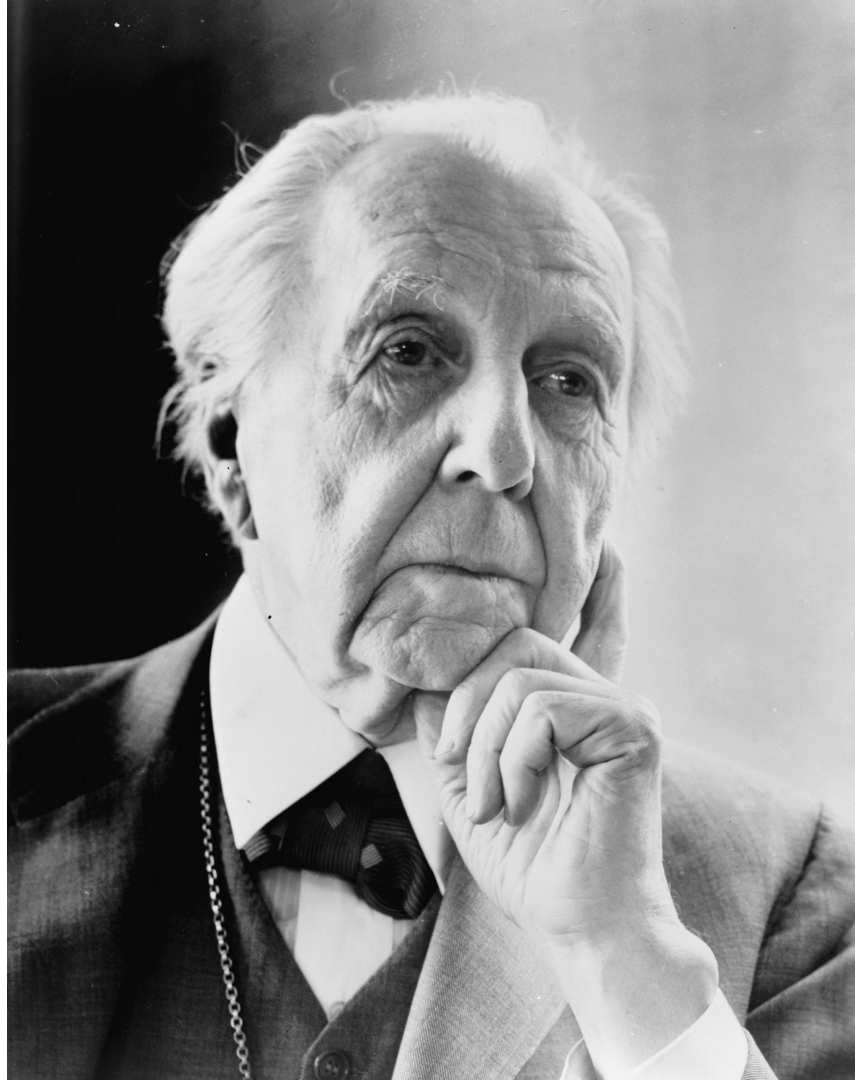

Stained Glass Windows

1867-1959

American Architect and Interior
Designer

Most known for his “organic architecture”, his style was to try and reflect the nature of the surrounding environment into the design of a building.

His most notable piece is considered to be the design for the Guggenheim Museum in New York City.
