ANISH KAPOOR-

Cloud Gate (AKA “The Bean”)

1954-Present

British-Indian Sculptor

Created as part of a design competition, the Cloud Gate was originally unveiled in Chicago in 2004 but was not actually completed until 2006 due to the challenges of its design.

Kapoor was inspired by the shapes and surface of liquid mercury. The giant sculpture reflects and distorts the city’s skyline and is a popular place for tourist pictures.
